The Company may derive information from your use of our website and may store this information with your personal profile. This information may include site areas visited, pages viewed, frequency and duration of visits, types of transactions conducted, documents downloaded and other websites which may have referred you or to which you link. This information is used to evaluate and improve the preference of our website.

Use of Personal Information

The Company may use your information for any one or more of the following purposes:

- To confirm your identity;
- To maintain your personal profile;
- To access your suitability to the products and services we provide;
- To provide the services to you that you have requested including processing transactions;
- To provide you with transaction and post transaction related services;

- To inform you of products and/or services that may be of interest to you;
- To keep you updated on the issues that are relevant to your business relationship with us;
- To tailor the website to your needs and interests;
- To analyze impersonalized statistical information to enable us to provide you with better products and/or services;
- To administer your account and monitor its conduct and assess and analyze any credit limit, including the interest rate, fees and other charges to be applied to the Client's Account;
- To pass your personal information to third parties for marketing purposes without prior written consent.

Retention of Personal Data

The Company will, as required by Law, retain your personal information on record for a period of at least seven (7) years, which is calculated after the execution of the transactions or the termination of the business relationship.

Monitoring and Recording

The Company will, as required by Law, monitor and record any communication you have with us, whether in writing, by phone, or by electronic mail.

Consent

You consent to the Company using your personal data for the above-stated purposes.

Disclosure of Personal Information

The Company may be required to provide your personal information to the authority Seychelles and other regulatory and government bodies as may be required by law from time to time.

The Company will disclose your personal information, without notice when required to do so by law or in good faith that such action is necessary to:

- a) protect our rights and/or comply with any court order or judicial proceedings;
- b) avoid any potential fraud;
- c) conform to the edicts of the law or comply with a legal process served on the Company or on the Company's website;
- d) protect and defend the rights or property of the Company's website;

The Company may provide this statistical information to its business partners or third parties. In no circumstances will you be able to be identified from this statistical information; you will remain anonymous.

Your Rights

You are not obligated to provide any of the personal information requested by the Company. In the absence of this information, however, the Company may not be able to open an account for you where the information is requested in on an application form, or to provide you with any other services, information or assistance you have sought.

While the Company may send you marketing material that it thinks may be useful to you, the Company is cognizant of the need to respect your privacy. Unless you are informed otherwise, this information is used to review your ongoing needs, enhance customer service and give you information or opportunities that the Company believes may be relevant to you. If you do not wish to receive non-essential information or marketing material, you will be allowed to unsubscribe from receiving such material.

Under the protection legislation, you have (subject to certain exceptions) the right to request any personal information the Company holds about you and to inform the Company of any perceived inaccuracy.

You may inform the Company at any time that your personal details have changed by emailing us at info@eto.group. The Company will need to verify your identity and may require you to complete a form specifying the information you require. The Company will acknowledge your request within seven (7) days and respond promptly to it advising the procedure to accessing this information.

If you have any questions, complaints or requests, please write to the Company, verifying your identity and setting out in full what information you require. If a complaint is not resolved by the Company to your satisfaction, you may complain to the Information Commissioner.

Consent

By accessing this website, you consent to the Company collecting, maintaining, using and disclosing personal information about you and provided by you or by another person as in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

Links to Other Websites

The website of the Company may provide links to third-party websites for product related services and information. If you decide to access those links, you will leave the Company's website. The Company does not control those third-party websites. Any personal information you choose to give to unrelated third parties is not covered by the Company's Privacy Policy. You should review the privacy policy of any third-party website before submitting personal information. Some third-party companies may choose to share their personal data with the Company. That sharing is governed by the disclosing company's privacy policy.

Cookies

The Company uses cookies to gather information about your access to its website and other services it provides to you. Cookies are small pieces of information which use a unique identification tag and are stored on your device as a result of you using the website or other services it provides to you.

Most internet browsers are set up to accept cookies. If you do not wish to receive cookies, you may be able to change the settings of your browser to refuse all cookies or to have your computer notify you each time a cookie is sent to it, and thereby give yourself the choice whether to accept it or not. However, it is strongly recommended that you allow cookies on the Company's website to ensure you have the best possible experience. Turning off cookies may result in reduced performance of the website and trading platform and may also impair the quality of the services that the Company provides to you in relation to your account.

Security

The Company adopts strong measures to protect the security of your personal information and to ensure it is not accessed by unauthorized persons. Access to personal information is restricted to employees and authorized service providers who need it to perform their work. You must not share or disclose your log in details with any third party. The Company takes strong precautions to protect your personal information from loss, theft, copying, misuse, unauthorized access or disclosure, alteration, or destruction. Measures include encryption during information transmission, strong authentication mechanisms and separation of machines and data to provide secure areas.

Amendments of Policy

The Company reserves the right to make changes to this Privacy Policy from time to time for any reason. You are responsible for regularly reviewing the Privacy Policy on the website and if you use the website after any such changes are published, such use shall constitute your agreement to such changes.
